

Lesson2 Part 1 test

次の英文は、下の(1)～(5)に書かれている語句が抜かれています。それぞれの語句が抜かれている箇所を見つけ、その前後にある単語を書きなさい。

Do emotions? Many scientists have answer this question for centuries. In the seventeenth century, René Descartes, a French philosopher, said humans had feelings and consciousness. He thought animals were like biological machines.

Two hundred years later, Charles Darwin had different ideas from Descartes'. He said that animals had mental to humans', though theirs were more limited. He also believed that animals had more or less emotions as humans.

Have you ever seen any photos of facial expressions of animals? If you haven't, why go online and check them out?
