ドイツの小説家、ヘルマン・ヘッセが書いた『アウグストゥス』のストーリーを読んでみましょう。

Once there was a pregnant* woman whose husband had died. Living next to her was a gentle old man. One day, the man said to her, "Tonight, please make one wish for your child, and I will grant* it." ( ① ) she did not believe him at first, she changed her mind that night and made a wish, "I want my child to be loved by everyone."

The baby was born and was named Augustus. Augustus was loved by everyone, just as his mother wished. However, he became a naughty* child because everyone spoiled* him. Even if he did something wrong, no one would scold him. Soon his mother regretted* making that wish.

By the time Augustus was an adult, he had done many terrible things. For example, he made his friends give him all of their money. His friends gave him their money because ( ② ). Once they had given him all of their money, Augustus just laughed at them and thought they were fools.

Eventually, after many years of behaving badly, Augustus came to hate himself. One day, he even tried to kill himself. Then suddenly the gentle old man appeared. He told Augustus to stop, and said, "Wish for something that will make your life better, and I will grant it." Augustus thought for a while, and then finally said, "Please make me able to love others. And also please lift* your earlier spell*, which was useless."

The next morning, the spell which made people love Augustus was broken. Now, everyone was angry at him. The people who had given Augustus everything he wanted went to his house and took many things he had. They took him to court*, and then he was put into prison for a long time.

When Augustus was finally released from prison, he was sick and poor. However, he felt happy because he was a much different person than before. Now he could love everyone, which brought him joy and calm* for the rest of his life. (335 words)
